

Dear Customer

In the context of the Brexit negotiations, Cargill is making it a priority to ensure that we are prepared to address the potential consequences of BREXIT that may affect our customers and our business, to the extent possible given the level of uncertainty.

Cargill's Animal Nutrition business in the UK is working on supply chain adaptations to minimise the possible disruptions to product and raw material deliveries coming from the European Union into the UK, such as making adjustments to our storage capacity and supply chain models. It is not possible, however, to mitigate all potential issues.

Your account manager is at your disposal if you want to discuss this in more detail.

Please note that all quotes, pricing offers and sales of products made by Provimi Ltd are subject to; (i) our standard terms and conditions of sale, which are enclosed within this letter; and (ii) the following additional term:

“In the event that Brexit occurs and:

- (i) there is, in any jurisdiction, an imposition of, or a change to, any duty, tax or levy imposed on imports or exports from, or into, the UK of any raw material used by Provimi Limited (“Provimi”) to manufacture products we supply to you (“Products”) then the price of the such Products payable by you shall be increased as necessary to cover the cost of such increased or new duty, tax or levy; and/or*
- (ii) there is a failure or delay in delivery of the Products to you as a result of failures or delays experienced by Provimi in the delivery of ingredients to Provimi necessary to produce the Products, Provimi shall have no liability for such failure or delay in delivery of the Products.*

Brexit means the UK ceasing to be a member state of the European Union.”

Thank you for your kind cooperation and trust.
